

Lostwithiel Town Council Planning applications

The Council, due to the Coronavirus pandemic, is not currently holding any Council meetings.

Please find below a paragraph taken from a joint Cornwall Council and Cornwall Association of Local Councils regarding arrangements for Planning for the duration of the pandemic.

Coronavirus will have an impact on local councils' ability to hold face to face meetings. However, Cornwall Council are responsible for determining planning applications within the statutory timescales and government have indicated that they wish this to continue. Cornwall Council will continue to work with local councils in circumstances where they might require a few more days to consider a particular application (on a case by case basis), but it would be unreasonable to seek to delay the determination of planning applications generally for an unspecified period or indeed for a number of months, in the event that the local council is unable to meet and provide comments. Therefore, local councils have already been advised of the procedures which can be put into place to consider their responses on planning applications electronically.

Going forward Lostwithiel Town Council intends to publish details of all planning applications received on Wednesdays on a weekly basis. If no planning applications are received by the Council a notice will be published on the website to indicate that the Council currently has no applications for consideration.
